

of the people of South Africa, their history, unique customs, fashions and styles.

It is my opinion that testimony to the lives of South Africans cannot be overlooked. There is so much to offer. South Africa is one of the most dynamic cultures in an ever changing world. Indeed, the exposure of its various cultural expressions may serve an educative purpose which ought to further our understanding of the human condition in its universal context.

I ~~am~~ hope that my application for the Andy Warhol Scholarship will be successful. I look forward to a favourable reply.

Yours sincerely
