

and charming man. But he is very deep and powerful in his work. We argue a lot ... though not so much recently, uyazike nane or your mother would tell you ... ithayuma lakho linenkani!! I can assure you his spending time with you would be inspirational to him as well. Lets just hope all the plans go well.

I know R500 - doesn't go very far, so we will be trying to send some more money in the near future. But by all means always keep writing. If you see ever near any of the big museums whether in Johannesburg or Pretoria do inquire if they have any works by Dumile Feni Mslaba etc. Let me know if you run into any of those that have his works & let me know what you think.

We celebrated your father's birthday 5/21/87.
I hope long before his next birthday he will have had to opportunity to see some if not all of you. Tell your sister to give us the specifics about her studies and what her interests are, what she wants to become etc.

Stay well ... as you know always,
this letter carries greetings, love, and longing from your father. I'm only his messenger; one of these days I'm going to have to ask him to write the letter himself. He always hates writing's letters and never writes ...
